LEARNING FROM THE GROUND UP

Texas Farm Bureau's Garden Grant Program

2017-2018 School Year

School gardens are an excellent way to take learning outside the classroom, providing students valuable, real-world agricultural experiences. Texas Farm Bureau, along with Ag in the Classroom, plays an integral role in providing information and support to teachers throughout the state.

LEARNING FROM THE GROUND UP provides further opportunity to include agricultural concepts across the curriculum through the use of school gardens, raised beds, greenhouses and other projects. A limited number of grants will be awarded to public or private schools K-12 in the amount of $500.

Applications can be made through your county Farm Bureau and will begin August 2017.
