The American Farm Bureau Federation, a non-partisan organization noted for its understanding of the political process, has developed this seminar with the help of professional political consultants and staff members of the Democrat and Republican parties.

The instructors are members of the American Farm Bureau Advocacy and Local Affairs staff. A computer-simulated campaign will allow you to test techniques, tools and methods.

Additionally, attendees will have the opportunity to practice for the media through a videotaped interview.

Farm Bureau's seminar teaches you how to evaluate the candidate and the electorate, build a campaign structure, raise money, enlist allies, create coalitions and get voter attention.
